HASS AVOCADO

You want guacamole year-round? There's only one avocado that can chill with you in summer and relax by the fire in winter. You got it boss — that's a Hass.

Eighty percent of the avocados eaten worldwide are Hass avocados. They're not only perennial, but they also have a long shelf life and change skin color when ripe — like avocados for dummies! Generous in size with a small seed — means more green, creamy "meat" to eat. Come that Big Game Sunday in February, if you want guac — thank heaven for the year-round Hass.
